LCYC : launching & camping

Randolph Recreation Area Camping

- I went to Randolph with another LCYC member as a LCYC representative and received their blessing to launch at Jacobs Creek and camp at Randolph. A sailor needs to enter through Randolph's gate and let the gatekeeper know that they are there for the Wurstfest Regatta. Entry fees are $6 a day to launch at Jacobs Creek and $10.00 a day to camp. If you pay the six dollar fee you can come and go all day without having to pay a $5 reentry fee. Camping is at Randolph not Jacobs Creek where you can leave your boat but must have your person and vehicle gone by sunset. feel free to give out my phone number to anyone confused by what I have just said and I will be happy to confuse them further.
- Thanks for helping get this information out. My phone is 210-912-2295.
